6. Armament:
Two hundred Soviet T34 tanks (estimated)
About 100 Cromwell tanks
About 50 Carrier half-track vehicles.

The Soviet tanks, new T34 tanks with 85-mm guns, had arrived in Zatec about July 1949⁹ about 20 rail shipments of 10 tanks each. They had been shipped via Turcansky Sv. Martin and Milovice, according to a soldier of the escort party.

7. Training: One-month individual training with rifles, followed by 6 to 7-week special training for tank drivers, gunners, and radio operators. Submachine gunners were trained separately. Apart from participating in the large-scale summer maneuvers in the Kaiserwald the brigade held no joint exercises with other units.
8. Supply depots of the brigade: Technical supply depot in Dobricany (N 51/F 10) (see Annex 2).
Ammunition depot near Zatec (see Annex 3).

Comment:

a. The data on the location and organization of the 21st Tank Brig confirm previous information, with the exception of the statement that the brigade is directly under the Ministry of National Defense. The 21st Tank Brig actually belongs to the Prague 5th Ltz Inf Div.

b. The information on the arrival in Zatec of T34/85 tanks in July 1949 is noteworthy. Other sources later reported on the arrival in Zatec of tanks and on rail shipments of new T34/85 tanks through Slovakia toward Moravia in September 1949.

c. It is believed that the T34/85 tanks were delivered from the Soviet Union and were used for the reequipment with Soviet tanks of the Czechoslovakian tank arm but it is still not known to what degree the 21st Tank Brig has now been reequipped with Soviet tanks.
